ELECTRICIANS' STRIKE MAY PLACE CITY IN DARKNESS

Walkout of Union Employes of the Utah Light & Power Company Is Ordered.

Clash Is Result of Sudden Demand For Shorter Hours and Higher Wages Being Rejected.

A STRIKE declared yesterday by the union employes of the Utah Light & Power company may throw Salt Lake into darkness, tie up the street car service in this city and shut down all smelters operaeed by electrical power. Every employe of the company in this city amenable to the strike orders, from station tenders down to meter men, walked out during the afternoon. The station tenders down to meter men, walked out during the afternoon. The station tenders down to meter men, walked out during the afternoon. The station tenders in the power plants in Cottonwood canyon, Provo, Logan and Ogden were ordered out. Reports have been received that they obeyed the orders. Company officials, however, received a different report. They stated that the men outside of Salt Lake had not quit work. All strikers have been summoned to this city and a meeting wil probably be held to day to discuss further steps.

For a while in the afternoon it looked as if every power plant of the company in the state would be shut down, but the state would be shut down, but the company was able to prevent this morning. In the meantime, to attempt to avoid trouble, they reinstated the four discharged men.

The strike is the result of a demand it is stated. The strike is the result of a demand upon the company by the union men for shorter hours, more wages and recognition of their union. The strikers stated that it was not their intention to tie up the company completely last night, but that they proposed to have their demands or remain out until they got some kind of a settlement. They announce their intention of forcing everything to close down unless some overture is made for to tie up the company completely last night, but that they proposed to have their demands or remain out until they got some kind of a settlement. CLAMMY AND GLUE-LIKE SMOOTH AND SLIPPERY Bitter Attack Upon Mormonism by Rev. Dr. Thompson in the Presbyterian General Assembly.

(Special to The Herald.)
OS ANGELES, Cal., May 26.—"Mormon nism the octopus, the greatest menace to Christian civilization today, must be crushed. Now is the time to strike." The most fiery of all the addresses yet delivered be fore the Presbyterian general assembly was that of Rev. Dr. Charles L. Thompson of New York, in the discussio

This morning, after touching upon many of the various fields that claim home missionary effort, he came to Mormonism and spoke with drastic earnestness about the sect which he believes is a menace to the best interests of the government. He read from Hugo's "Tollers of the Sea" the graphic description of the octopus. Then he pro-ceeded with remarks, applying the description of the oc-topus to Mormonism.

Sea" the graphic description of the octopus. Then he proceeded with remarks, applying the description of the octopus to Mormonism.

"Mormonism is that frightful octopus," he said, "which is vunerable but at one point and at one time, when it puts out its head.

"Beware of the octopus, whose head now claims a senator. Now is the time to strike.

"This poisonous octopus resembles some fair thing. It would deceive the very elect. It is clammy, it is gluelike, it is smooth and slippery.

"It is not a thing to be educated, remodeled, suppressed nor reformed. It must be crushed.

"Its doctrines? They take hold on hell. Its system? There is nothing comparable except the German army. Its hypocrisy blindfolds a nation.

"Its industry confounds. A federation of denominations. The Anglo-Saxon race musts rise up and crush it."

Dr. Thompson bitterly denounced the Mormon doctrine and declared: "If 2,000 smallpox patients were turned loose on the nation or notice was given that such a host of infectious cases was to be turned loose on the community, steps would be taken to suppress them. Yet here are 2,000 Mormon missionaries going out with their dangerous but infectious doctrine, and nothing is done to hinder them from spreading out into all communities for victims."

Smoot from Utah, the speaker declared that his candidacy disclosed the effrontery of the Mormon church. "Now is the time to crush this monster," declared the speaker. "The keels should be placed on its head,"

Strong Anti-Smoot Resolutions.

Resolutions now before the committee on bills and overtures protesting against the seating of Senator Smoot are said to be the strongest that have yet been submitted to a religious body on the subject.

In the resolutions it is state that the system which Smoot represents strikes at the government and the home alike, that it begrades women and destroys the family. Protest is made against his being seated in the United States senate and demands are made that congress enact laws which will serve to check the influence of Mormonism and eventually stampt it out forever. It is expected that strong speeches in support of the resolutions. is expected that strong speeches in support of the reso-lutions will be made in committees, but there is a con-servative element which counsels moderation in the language of the overture to be reported to the assembly on the subject of Mormonism.

The report on the resolutions will probably not be made until near final adjournment of the assembly.

Dr. Thompson's Speech Applauded.

UREKA, May 26.—By a clever piece of work Joe Raleigh, detective, of Salt Lake, and Dan Cronin, sleuth and sheriff of Juab county, yesterday enriched the coffers of the Mammoth Minips company to the amount of $1.457.35$ and, at the same time, banished dreams of great wealth from the minds of L. A. Copeland, manager of the Taylor & Brunton sampling works, and a syndicate headed by "Dick" Winder, J. H. Clive, George Kelly of Kelly & Co., and several other Salt Lake gentlemen, each of whom has been living in a fever of expectation awaiting the day when he would put Senator Kearns and Mark Hanna in the kindergarten class. At this time, Indeed, Messrs. Clive and Winder are bowling across the desert 100 miles wear of here still dreaming of the great riches in store for them.

How all this came about covers a period of three months, and is a history of intense interest. Some time last winter an Italian made his appearance at the Taylor & Brunton sampling works and offered for sale a small amount of rich gold spar, receiving therefor, $159. Five weeks lafer he brought in a yet shaller consignment, carrying away with him three $29 gold pieces and $2 in silver. On the 15th of this month the same man came again riding on a wagon loaded with dirty sacks of burlap which contained 1,709 pounds of gold rock for which, after a confab with Mr. Copeland, he was paid $1,825 in bright gold pieces.

Thrilling Tale of Hardship.

Upon the occasion of this visit Mr. Copeland questioned him and the son of Italy stated, in his broken English, that the ore came from a property in the wilds of Deep Creek. He told a graphic story of the hardships endured by himself and partner—how the ore was mined by his partner and packed on the backs of burros over well-nigh impassible trails across rugged mountains, and again over the burning desert. He was eloquent in describing the hardships endured and pointed to blood on the ore sacks which, he said, was the blood of game they had killed for their subsistence. He said that he and his partner were not citizens of this glorious republic, and for that reason could not locate the ground on which they had made their rich discovery. He McIntyre Gets the Money.

He readily acquiesced in a partnership proposed by Mr. Copeland, and agreed to return today and escort that gentleman to his treasure house in the rocky fastness of the mountains so far away from the haunts of civilization. This compact was made at Mr. Copeland's own home, where the foxy Latin had been wined and dined as he never was before. According to the tale he told, Cottonwood Plant Running.

The court read a letter which Hussner wrote to his mother from prison, and in which he said: "God Almighty will not desert me, because I oxly acted as I had to. If I am punished I shall have the glad consclousness of having maintaine my honor unimpaired. It is after all the highest gift that a man possesses. I trust in my Redeemer, Jesus Christ.

The impression made on the hearers by the examination of Hussner was that his action was the result of the system of training on material which was dull though passionate, and which affected a mind filled with exaggerated ideas of honor.
